

A Question of Loyalty

Newark During the Civil War

Monday, September 23, 2013 at 6:00 PM

A Program Sponsored by the Newark History Society

Presenter: John Zinn, Chair of the New Jersey Civil War 150th Anniversary Committee and Chair of the New Jersey Historical Society

The New Jersey Historical Society

52 Park Place, Newark, New Jersey | Please RSVP by September 18 to NewarkHistorySociety@verizon.net or by calling 973.376.8273 | Open to the public at no charge | Light refreshments.

Clockwise from upper left: Theodore Runyon, a leading war Democrat from Newark; Edward Fuller, editor of the Newark Daily Journal and a leading peace Democrat and Copperhead; Horace Conger, editor of the Newark Mercury, a Republican newspaper; Joel Parker, Governor of New Jersey during most of the war; Marcus Ward, a leading Republican from Newark, elected Governor in 1865 after losing in 1862. Photos courtesy of John Zinn.